Mayor

August 30, 2018

Dear Spiritual Leader:

Each day, I receive numerous calls from residents asking for assistance on a variety of matters, such as how to better advocate for their children, manage their finances, or even how to successfully navigate friendships and community relationships.

Saturday, October 13, from 8:00 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Joseph A. Floreano Rochester Riverside Convention Center, I am hosting the "Inspiring our Community Today, tomorrow and always!" conference. Residents will have the opportunity to take part in workshops that will provide them with useful information to help them successfully navigate some of the life situations they encounter.

Immediately following the conference, vendors from business and educational organizations, service providers from the private sector, city and county government and other agencies, will be available to meet with residents and provide them with information to help equip them with knowledge and resources to further empower them to be successful in their daily lives.

In ministry, you know how the weight of life's daily pressures can impact a person's countenance and their soul. Knowing how those pressures affect our residents, please know that I crafted each workshop with the well-being of the community in mind. The conference theme is "Sleep Doesn't Help When it's Your Soul That's Tired. Come to the Conference to Get Inspired!" It is my hope that resident's will walk away refreshed, empowered and be thoroughly equipped to take on life's challenges.

I would like to humbly ask you to please share the attached conference flyers with your members. The cost of the conference is $10.00 per person and if someone would like to register, they should go to CityofRochester.gov and click on the link to "Inspiring our Community Today, tomorrow and always!" Conference capacity is 300 people; there are 150 seats each for men and women, registration is first come, first served. If you would like additional conference information, please contact my Assistant Tracey Miller at (585) 428-6684 or Tracey.Miller@CityofRochester.Gov.

Thank you in advance for your support of my conference!

Sincerely,
